

Jervis Vernon

Biographical Information

- Jervis H. Vernon is a 39-year old man originally from Jamaica.
- Mr. Vernon has lived in the U.S. continuously since arriving in 2014.
- Prior to his detention, Mr. Vernon lived in Hartford, Connecticut with his wife, Anesia Knight, a U.S. citizen.
- Mr. Vernon's uncle, Clive Morrison, also lives in Hartford and is also a U.S. citizen.
- Mr. Vernon has been employed in Hartford and has made this country his home.
- Mr. Vernon's family have actively participated in his immigration case and supported his efforts to remain in the United States.

Immigration History and Removal Proceedings

- Mr. Vernon entered the U.S. on visitor visa in 2014 and has not left since.
- On April 9, 2018, Mr. Vernon and his wife filed the paperwork to apply for lawful permanent resident status for Mr. Vernon based on their marriage: a Form I-130 relative petition and a Form I-485 application for adjustment of status. Both are still pending.
- In April 2019, DHS charged Mr. Vernon as being removable for overstaying his visa; in May 2019, DHS additionally charged him as removable for seeking admission by fraud or misrepresentation.
- ICE took Mr. Vernon into custody in February 2020 and detained him at the Bristol County House of Correction in Massachusetts.
- Mr. Vernon's removal proceedings are ongoing. His next immigration court hearing is scheduled for June 25, 2020.
- On April 4, 2020, through the class action suit Savino v. Souza, No. 20-cv-10617-WGY (D. Mass.), Mr. Vernon was ordered released on bail from Bristol County, with an explicit limitation that any re-arrest be pursuant to a court-issued warrant or final removal order. See Exhibit A (Savino Order). Mr. Vernon was released on April 6. The government moved for reconsideration and on April 7 the court granted reconsideration and vacated the bail order as to Mr. Vernon. Savino, No. 20-cv-10617, Dkt. No. 54. ICE agents re-arrested Mr. Vernon on April 13, and detained him at Wyatt on April 14.

If Released

- If released, his uncle, Clive Morrison, is able to pick Mr. Vernon up and bring him back to his home at 402 Bellevue St., Hartford Connecticut, where he can remain. See Exhibit B (Declaration of Ethan Ackerman).
- Mr. Vernon would have his own room in the Morrison family's home, which would be sufficient to allow Mr. Vernon to maintain social distancing and abide by any conditions the Court may impose. Mr. Morrison has confirmed that he will facilitate his nephew's quarantine, and that Mr. Vernon will be able to isolate himself from the community as well as from other members of the household for 14 days, or more if needed. Id.
- Mr. Vernon's wife, Anesia Knight, also actively supports Jervis' release, but Mrs. Knight's sister resides with her and is suffering from active sickle cell disease, putting her at high risk for COVID-19.

- Mr. Morrison and Mrs. Knight will ensure Mr. Vernon's compliance with the Court and ICE's conditions of release. Id.
- As an alternative, if the Court is not inclined to release Mr. Vernon to his uncle's home, Mr. Vernon can instead reside at OpenDoors, a Providence supervised housing site and accompanying support program specifically for people with criminal records. See Declaration of Nick Horton, Director of Open Doors R.I., Dkt. No. 61-6.
